
i-doit_{pro} hosting licence
Addendum

August 2011
Version 1.10

Article 1 Definitions

This document is an addendum to an existing subscription/purchase version of i-doit and the associated terms and conditions of license and use.

An object package is bound to a client as part of the terms and conditions of use. Therefore, from the viewpoint of the terms and conditions of use, an object package cannot be divided among various clients. However, in order to offer users of the i-doit software an attractive price model, for example if they use i-doit within the scope of their own services with various clients, this addendum can stipulate an alternative way of counting the objects which deviates from standard use.

Article 2 Distributed object counters

For a fee of 250.00 EUR (subscription, annually) or 1,200.00 EUR (purchase, one-time), a purchased or used object can be distributed to as many clients as desired. Of course, in doing so the number of objects actually maintained may not exceed the number of purchased object packages.

Article 3 Unlimited version

When using the unlimited object package, a distribution can be activated for an additional fee of 1,200.00 EURO (subscription, annually) or 4,500.00 EUR (purchase, one-time). Then the user has a version available which is not restricted in the number of clients and objects.
